ON THE FUNNY SIDE

Always an Eye to Business.
"Some of you old chaps did a great deal of dancing at the big party."
"Yes," replied Mr. Cumrox. "The next time we give one, I'm going to see if I can't get mother and the girls to give me a concession to open a little stand in the hall and sell rheumatism liniment to the departing guests."

Nothing Else to It.
"Algernon, I cannot be engaged to you any longer."
"Why not? Some whim, I suppose."
"Because yesterday I married Mr. Fluddub."
"In that case I guess I'll have to release you, kid."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A Safe Topic.
"Daughter," said Mr. Wimples, "that young chap who comes around here to see you so often is as dumb as a fish. I can hardly get a word out of him."
"Why, father, he doesn't know what to talk about when you are present."
"Then he is a fool. Doesn't he know we are having weather every day?"

MEASURING IT OUT
The Sufferer: I want a quarter's worth of chloroform liniment.
The Druggist: I'm just about to fill an order for three dollars' worth. Step around here and I'll let you smell for two bits and the war tax.

Editor—When you send manuscript madam, always put in a stamped envelope with it; otherwise you won't get it back.
"But I don't want it back."—Life.

Reaction.
"Father," said the small boy, "what is a pessimist?"
"A pessimist, my son, is usually an optimist who has overworked and is compelled to take a vacation."

Clever.
Friend—How did you ever get such a pleasant expression on that homely Miss Passeur's portrait?
Artist—I got her to telling me about men she might have married.

Allaying His Fears.

New Cook—Shure, there's no made of him doin' that while Oi'm here. Oi'm no cookin' school graduate.

The Nature of the Work.
"I see one industry in Australia is raising kangaroos."
"I should think to succeed in that business would keep a fellow on the jump."

An Old-Fashioned Man.
"Well, just what is an old-fashioned man?"
"An old-fashioned man is one who will go smoke hungry before he will ask a girl for a cigarette."

Sure Enough.
"Men are all alike. I suppose when Adam met Eve he told her she was good enough to eat."
"Well, wasn't she a spare rib?"

High Education.
An easterner gave his daughter an airplane for winning a scholarship. Is there to be no limit on this higher education thing?

Not Necessarily.
"Isn't running for office something of a contagious disease?"
"I don't know about that; it isn't always catching."

Quaker Minister Is Grateful to Tanlac

Rev. Parker Moon

Nearly everybody in Southwest Missouri either knows or has heard of the Rev. Parker Moon, who for a full half century has devoted his life and talents to Sunday school and organization work for the Society of Friends or Quakers.

"Uncle Parker," as he is more familiarly known, came from fine old rugged Quaker stock, and there is not a better known or more highly respected citizen in that part of the state. In referring to his remarkable restoration to health by Tanlac, he said:

"About five years ago I suffered a general breakdown. My principal trouble was nervous indigestion. My appetite was very poor and my food seldom agreed with me, and I had to live on a very restricted diet. I suffered a great deal from headaches and dizzy spells; I had severe pains across the small of my back and was badly constipated most of the time. In fact, I was so weak and rundown I was not able to attend to my duties."

"This condition made me very nervous and I could not sleep at night. Frequently I would lie awake most all night and was in that condition more or less for five years. My physician said he could not do anything for me and suggested a change of climate. I then moved to Texas and went back and forth three times, but did not get the relief I had hoped for. Finally, I got so bad off I was not able to get around with any degree of comfort. I was also told I had heart trouble."

"I had read about Tanlac and, as it had been very highly recommended to me, I decided to try it. I got a bottle and had taken only a few doses until I could notice a marked improvement in my condition. I noticed especially that I was not troubled any more with sour stomach after eating, which was a great relief."

"I kept on taking Tanlac until I fully regained my health. My appetite is splendid; I enjoy my meals and I do not find it necessary now to take any laxative medicines of any kind. I can sleep much better and am not nearly so nervous."

"I take great pleasure in recommending Tanlac to anyone who needs a good system builder, or who suffers with stomach trouble. I have recommended Tanlac to a great many of my friends and am pleased to reach others by giving this statement for publication."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

Plant Diseases Costly.

Millions of bushels of grain, fruit and vegetables and a big tonnage of cotton were lost to American farmers last year by plant diseases, according to figures compiled by the plant disease survey of the Department of Agriculture. The survey said that the statistics indicate that lack of prompt application of known measures of control was largely the cause of the loss. The plant disease survey estimated the losses at 112,000,000 bushels of wheat, 50,000,000 bushels of oats, 80,000,000 bushels of corn, 50,000,000 bushels of potatoes, 40,000,000 bushels of sweet potatoes, 185,000 tons of tomatoes, 850,000 bales of cotton, 5,000,000 bushels of peaches and 16,000,000 bushels of apples.

Cave Has Natural Heat.

A naturally heated cave has been discovered at Horse Butte, near Bend, Ore., which apparently draws its warmth from a subterranean volcanic source. The discovery was made by C. A. Yarnell and H. D. Elde, local fuel dealers. The cave is located near the top of the butte and first attracted attention when a wave of heat was felt issuing from the mouth. The cinder bottom and rock walls of the tunnel are unbearably hot to the touch, the heat increasing as far back as could be explored. That the phenomenon is a recent manifestation was indicated by the smoldering of grass and twigs near the opening. To test the natural oven Mr. Yarnell cooked a light breakfast by introducing raw articles of food into the aperture and closing the orifice for a few moments.
